

The Economics of a Socialist

Hitler figured out the greatest way to destabilize and gain greater government control over the 'people of a nation' was to have an economic disaster. It was an economic disaster that brought him to power and media that continually used the pestilential whore (death and failure) to bring about his reign. When the people of a nation can be convinced that a solution can be found in one man, government think tank, or the most educated among them and that's the only way to bring about a solution, to a government created problem; to have a nation abandon their freedoms and surrender their national will to one man, this is a must.

Did I say a government created problem? Why yes I did. This is just one example. Were you the people not convinced to put your money into 401k's and I.R.A's as a tax shelter for retirement and to invest in the stock market to make money and avoid paying taxes on the money invested? Why? So you could have money to retire on? So what happened to that money when the stock market took a dive and people lost their investments? Where did the money go? Nobody seems to know or was it planned? Naturally, the government would have to step in and bail out a few certain entities in the stock market to keep things from getting worse, or did it get worse when the government took the printing presses of America and print money that doesn't exist and put the i.o.u. in your name and whoever comes after you.

Your congressman helped create a flawed system - knowing that most people are suckers. Whether you know it or not, a lot of money changes hands when those in charge can by manipulating tax codes (congress and the president) and have the knowledge of how stock market systems operate, (wall street and the treasury department) create a perfect storm. You don't know where it came from or where it went, yet when the damage is done and the wreckage is left behind and you stand in stupefied wonder. But if you look - you really can see the cause and effect of what has happened, but you have to look. If you take no action you become the drone the government needs to keep it going.

Yet someone has to take a fall and who has gone to jail? Bernie Madoff? He just used the system, he didn't create it. The elected government officials: U.S. House and Senate, who designed these programs? There's not a chance on God's green earth they will convict their own. The officials at A.I.G.? They have not only your money but your children's and grandchildren's, which will come in the form of greater taxation and expanded government agencies.

So who's to blame? W.C. Fields once said; "There's a sucker born every day and two to take him." You might as well laugh America you've been had. How did the perfect storm take place? I cannot explain all the complexities though every storm has a beginning. This is just a short take on how some of the events unfolded. Chuck Schumer says, "Gee there's a bank out west that looks like it's in trouble". Then there's a run on the bank. Out come G. Bush and the Treasury Department to the rescue - "We'll save you." By then, people being what they are, started pulling their investment money and the stock market responds with 'fire sales'. The housing market starts to collapse. The housing market folds because of the sub-prime mortgages of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, of which banks were made to loan because your government, (Congress and presidents-past and present) made those mandated. So the building market tanks which demands less products, which means less revenue, which leads to less jobs, and on and on and on.

Now enter the new whiz kid: Obama. You need to remember that with the socialist agenda – 'the ends justify the means'. He says "I'll save you, just surrender your souls and give your patronage to me and I'll make sure that you and your children will become slaves to the state. You will all work for the government. You will build the utopia I and all the dictators of the world have been looking for. You Americans have been rich too long and have achieved too much. Most of you have flush toilets and the rest of the world envies you. I have the solution. I and only I, (with the help of the stooges in Congress) will make you as the third world toilets, uh countries, so you can all go down the drain together. I mean so I can lift you into that wonderful cesspool called socialism, because I and only I know how to run companies and build cars and no one cares about your health like I do. Surrender now and I and only I have the answers. I will and I can be your savior (and the world's too) remember it is I only I".

In reality, this president and this present congress do not intend for this so called crisis to end, they will go from one created crisis to another and economic devastation will follow in their wake. So when you hear of a new crisis and the president and congress want to 'save you' - all they carry is chains for your liberty and shackles for your prosperity, and a muzzle for your words and thoughts.

Do you want to know how to save America? Listen up - here is what to look for in a candidate running for office. They believe that life begins at conception. ..
